

Nabble powered Forums are incorporated

Author: Cougar Liu<liucougar@scim-im.org>

The long awaited forums of SCIM finally arrive at the website, thanks to the wonderful Nabble mailing list integration system: " Nabble offers free forum hosting and mailing list archiving. You can fully customize the appearance (skin) to match your website."

The two major mailing lists of SCIM, scim-user and scim-devel are now available. In addition, the nabble forums for SCIM is fully skinned as the other part of the official website.

Nabble forums support searching and full synchronization with mailing lists. So you can search all posted mailing list emails in Nabble as well as sending new emails (posts). However, you do need to first subscribe to the SCIM mailing list in question before your email can show up in the forum.
